THE BAKER'S WIFE

Music & Lyrics by Stephen Schwartz
Book by Joseph Stein
Directed by Michelle Bruno

March 1 - 30, 2024

The bickering residents of a rural village in 1935 Provence, France, have been without a baker for seven weeks. They finally find peace and contentment in the new baker, Aimable, and his attractive young wife, Genevieve. However, when Genevieve is lured away by a handsome young gigolo, the middle-aged baker loses all zest for life and baking. When he refuses to bake, the villagers must work as a team to bring Aimable and Genevieve back together. Old-world charm permeates every moment of The Baker's Wife, a true gem of a musical by legendary authors, Joseph Stein (Fiddler on the Roof) and Stephen Schwartz (Godspell, Wicked, Pippin). This romantic musical has developed a loyal following for its lush score featuring the song "Meadowlark."

Please Note: The Baker's Wife contains themes of infidelity. May contain gluten.

PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Resolutions....

It’s that time of year. The time when all our celebrations and family get-togethers and the general logistical craziness give way to that most dreaded of traditions... “The New Year’s Resolution”. In my last program note, I talked about my wish for peace. Wishes are about what we hope will happen, but resolutions are about what we promise (ourselves) to make happen. In some ways, there is nothing more hopeful than a New Year’s resolution, and oftentimes nothing more disappointing. However, we continue to go through the annual ritual in the ongoing effort to improve ourselves and our communities . So in that spirit I thought I’d share a couple of the theater-related resolutions I’m contemplating for myself.

First, I resolve to read more plays, especially recent ones. I also encourage all of our audience members to read them as well. Why? Because that’s the best way to help CP plan its seasons. One of the most frequent comments I get from audience members is “Why did you pick THAT show?” or “Why aren’t there more comedies?”. While feedback is always important, letting us know about a specific play you saw or read that you’d like to see on our stage is really helpful. Our in-the-round staging makes it difficult to do some plays, but other than that we’ll listen to any suggestion.

Second, I resolve to see more plays, especially student productions. While I absolutely appreciate and encourage our community to support OUR productions, our local schools need our support as well. Even if you don’t have kids in the school, supporting the arts in schools is so important. Please get people thinking “STEAM”, not just “STEM”. I can tell you from personal experience that the Arts and STEM both have a lot to offer each other. And when students get involved in CP productions and activities, they always teach us a thing or two.

Lastly, I resolve to get my program notes finished in a more timely manner. I’m sure the Marketing Director (who is responsible for programs) will appreciate it.

May all YOUR resolutions be kept in 2024....

— STEVE TOBIN

DIRECTOR'S NOTES

"Marjorie Prime is a play about Artificial Intelligence" is a falsehood. The truth is it's about memories, relationships, and communication. AI is the window from which the audience is allowed to visually eavesdrop. It is a glimpse into the future, or maybe today. The people are real, nuanced and familiar. Plumbing the depths of the individual characters, bringing them to life and watching them grow in the hands of a willing, hard working, talented cast, has been a joy. Although the play is dark, we hope you find your theatre experience rewarding and provocative and a stimulant to your curiosity. How does AI fit into or alter your daily lives?

- Edd Miller

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

Marjorie Prime is about forming and reforming memories. Starting in 1971 Edd has directed many shows, mostly for The Colonial Players. How many do you remember?

The Appletree, Plaza Suite, I Never Sang For My Father (Ruby Griffith award), Blythe Spirit, 6 Rms Riv Vu, Carnival, The Curious Savage, On Golden Pond, Relatively Speaking, The Tale Of The Allergists Wife, Moon Over Buffalo, Two Rooms, Going to

St. Ives (WATCH award), Coyote On A Fence (WATCH nominated), Maytag Virgin, Between Mouthfuls, Good People, The Diviners.

Edd has found time in between these productions to direct for other groups, design sets, and when possible do some acting. After retiring Edd was a standardized patient working with all the local teaching hospitals in the area. In the last few years he has joined the set construction crew at CP. Edd studied Theater at Chicago's Goodman Theatre.

He would like to thank Edd, his castmates and the Production team for making this such a wonderful experience and I love you to Cassie, Wyatt and Henry.

JEANNE LOUISE
(Marjorie)

Jeanne Louise spent her first few actor's decades playing spunky ingenues and feisty leading ladies, before growing into quirky older characters. Over the years, she has moved on from portraying Juliet to Lady Capulet in Romeo and Juliet, and last summer played Lady Macbeth in Macbeth. She toured in Arsenic and Old Lace and as Alice in Wonderland in repertory around Paris for a year, and as the title character in Charlotte's Web across the USA. Musical roles include Eliza Doolittle in My Fair Lady, Guinevere in Camelot, Marian the Librarian, then later Eulalie MacKechnie Shin in The Music Man. She has played Ebenezer Scrooge twice, once in the farce The Fardale Avenue Housing Estate Townswomen's Guild Dramatic Society's Production of A Christmas Carol (as woman playing a man), and last winter with Twin Beach Players' A Christmas Carol, playing a traditional male Scrooge. Other roles with TBP include irascible Ouiser in Steel Magnolias, and Olive (the slob) in the female Odd Couple. Jeanne was nominated for a WATCH Award for her performance as DiDi/Petey/Vera/Garland/Helen in BCT's A Tuna Christmas. Marjorie Prime marks her fourth onstage appearance with The Colonial Players, having played in Lucky Stiff, The Curious

Dylan is glad to be back for another show at The Colonial Players, having recently appeared earlier this season as Jason in Wit.

Other past CP performances include Doc in Crimes of the Heart and Ethan in Sex with Strangers. When he's not onstage, Dylan is a journalist, blogger, and novelist. His debut novel, The Purple Bird, released in 2019, and his next work, The Tide and the Stars, is slated for later in 2024.

KATE WHEELER
(Tess)

Kate's love of theater has only grown over the years. Starting on stage in California (Kathy Juarez, ACT, Kim Darby, Kathleen Freeman) to working locally throughout Maryland. She has been fortunate to have worked with amazing actors, directors, and crew. Marjorie Prime is no exception. Kate is looking forward to working and learning from this incredibly talented ensemble. Her first production with The Colonial Players was over 25 years ago in Dearly Departed (Joe Thompson). Various productions at CP followed, from To Gillian on her 37th Birthday to the summer 2023 sneak peak of Wit (Michael Gillis). Kate would like to thank Edd for this wonderful opportunity and Lois for her insight, warmth and smile. The biggest thank you is to her 3, you are the white noise of my life and I love you more!

10 Early Signs and Symptoms of Alzheimer's and Dementia

Memory loss that disrupts daily life may be a symptom of Alzheimer's or other dementia. Alzheimer's is a brain disease that causes a slow decline in memory, thinking and reasoning skills. There are 10 warning signs and symptoms. If you notice any of them, don't ignore them. Schedule an appointment with your doctor.

- 1. Memory loss that disrupts daily life — One of the most common signs of Alzheimer's disease, especially in the early stage, is forgetting recently learned information. Others include forgetting important dates or events, asking the same questions over and over, and increasingly needing to rely on memory aids (e.g., reminder notes or electronic devices) or family members for things they used to handle on their own.
- 2. Challenges in planning or solving problems — Some people living with changes in their memory due to Alzheimer's or other dementia may experience changes in their ability to develop and follow a plan or work with numbers. They may have trouble following a familiar recipe or keeping track of monthly bills. They may have difficulty concentrating and take much longer to do things than they did before.
- 3. Difficulty completing familiar tasks — People living with memory changes from Alzheimer's or other dementia often find it hard to complete daily tasks. Sometimes they may have trouble driving to a familiar location, organizing a grocery list or remembering the rules of a favorite game.
- 4. Confusion with time or place — People living with Alzheimer's or other dementia can lose track of dates, seasons and the passage of time. They may have trouble understanding something if it is not happening immediately. Sometimes they may forget where they are or how they got there.
- 5. Trouble understanding visual images and spatial relationships — Some people living with Alzheimer's or other dementia could experience vision changes. This may lead to difficulty with balance or trouble reading. They may also have problems judging distance and determining color or contrast, causing issues with driving.
- 6. New problems with words in speaking or writing — People living with Alzheimer's or other dementia may have trouble following or joining a conversation. They may stop in the middle of a conversation and have no idea how to continue or they may repeat themselves. They may struggle with vocabulary, have trouble naming a familiar object or use the wrong name (e.g., calling a "watch" a "hand-clock").
- 7. Misplacing things and losing the ability to retrace steps — A person living with Alzheimer's or other dementia may put things in unusual places. They may lose things and be unable to go back over their steps to find them again. He or she may accuse others of stealing, especially as the disease progresses.
- 8. Decreased or poor judgment — Individuals living with Alzheimer's or other dementia may experience changes in judgment or decision-making. For example, they may use poor judgment when dealing with money or pay less attention to grooming or keeping themselves clean.
- 9. Withdrawal from work or social activities — A person living with Alzheimer's or other dementia may experience changes in the ability to hold or follow a conversation. As a result, they may withdraw from hobbies, social activities or other engagements. They may have trouble keeping up with a favorite team or activity.
- 10. Changes in mood and personality — Individuals living with Alzheimer's or other dementia may experience mood and personality changes. They can become confused, suspicious, depressed, fearful or anxious. They may be easily upset at home, with friends or when out of their comfort zone.
